Grow business without sacrificing risk standards

Today's economic conditions and consumer experiences create new analytic demands. Lenders and investors seeking to grow portfolios without sacrificing risk standards must adopt more powerfully predictive analytic tools that factor in recent data and new perspectives from consumer behavior. Created in response to user demand, FICO® Score 10 meets these needs directly. As with all FICO Scores, FICO Score 10 is extremely robust and excels in comparison to previous FICO Score versions.

Demonstrating greater predictive power over all previous versions of the FICO® Score, FICO Score 10 was developed to inform an even higher level of consumer credit risk prediction. Developed from a consistent blueprint, the score boasts improved predictive capability without sacrificing the trusted FICO Score minimum scoring criteria and user experience. FICO Score 10 is designed with compliance in mind. The score carries forward key features of prior versions and maintains the familiar 300–900 score range.

FICO® Score 10 provides continuity with these important features compatible with other FICO® Score versions:

- Same minimum scoring criteria
